P.6 An unforgettable experience

Law Hiu Tung, Chloe 6A

Last week, I had an unforgettable experience. I went to my grandpa's home by bus.

When I was on the bus, I saw a pregnant woman. A little girl sat near the pregnant woman. The little girl touched her belly. That scene reminded me of my mum giving birth to my sister.

Suddenly, the woman had stomach pains. She was very scared and nervous. All the people on the bus tried to make her relax. Luckily, there was a doctor on the bus. The doctor checked her stomach. She needed to give birth soon. Then the ambulance came. The ambulance men said, 'The woman is safe. Thank you for your help. If no one helped her, she would be in danger.'

After this incident, I learnt that helping each other is important. What an unforgettable experience!

Yeung Tsz Hin, Oscar 6B

I had an unforgettable experience. It happened last year when I went to school.

One day, I got up late. I got dressed and washed my face quickly. I missed my school bus, so I went to school by public bus. I fell asleep on my way to school. Suddenly, I woke up and saw my school. I got off the bus immediately. Luckily, I could get to school on time. When I was entering my classroom, I realised my school bag was still on the bus. I felt very scared. My teacher helped me find it at the bus station. Finally, I got my school bag back.

I have learnt that I should not get up late. I think I will not make this mistake again.

Szeto Shuk Ming, Cally 6C

Last summer, my friends and I volunteered to sell flags. This was the first time I sold flags. I felt nervous and excited at the same time. I also remembered how my friend and I encouraged people to buy the flags. One of them had already bought a flag but still bought one from me. Also, his uncle helped me buy a flag. It surprised me. So, I tried really hard to sell all the flags. In the end, I sold most of them.

Although selling flags was very hard, I could help others and this made me happy.

Tsang Ka Kei, Kelly 6D

When I was eight years old, I went hiking and got lost. It was an unforgettable experience.

In the morning, my parents and I took a bus and went to Sai Kung. We started going up the hill. Then I saw many beautiful butterflies. I followed them and ran very fast. I could not remember how far I ran. Suddenly I found myself alone on the hill. I could not find my parents.

I was very scared. I screamed for help. After one hour, my father came and took me back down the hill. I saw my mother there. I was very happy to see them.

Chuk Hoi Kit, Kevin 6E

I had an unforgettable experience yesterday. When I was in the street, I saw a car accident. I was very scared. A car crashed into a fence and a minibus. People were hurt in the car accident. People were scared and they screamed for help. Finally, policemen, firemen and paramedics came and helped the people who were hurt.

I have learnt that helping others is important and I have to stay calm when there is an accident. I can call the police for help if people are in danger.
