

Preface

This newsletter includes a selection of students' writing about school, jobs, cooking, birthdays and other inspirational topics.

You could start by reading P.2 students' writing about their dream schools. Then, get some cooking tips from P.3 students before ending with P.6 students' future plans.

We would like to thank the students who have contributed to the newsletter: an excellent job! Their work should remind us to cherish what we write and be inspired to write more about things that interest us. All students have something to offer, so pick up a pen or pencil now and start writing. It is fun!

Enjoy the read.
